European Views Of McCarthy:

McCarthy Humiliated, U.S. Prestige Hurt

By TOM OCHILTREE
LONDON (AP) — Some of Western Europe's newspapers said Friday that Sen. Joseph McCarthy has humiliated President Eisenhower and in so doing has damaged American prestige abroad.

The tone towards McCarthy has changed. A few months ago the Wisconsin Republican was the central figure in many humorous political cartoons. Few papers saw anything funny in his clash with Secretary of the Army Robert Stevens.

The McCarthy-Stevens clash has been headline news in Western Europe newspapers from the beginning. Editorial comment in both metropolitan and provincial newspapers has been critical of McCarthy.

Herbert Morrison, foreign secretary in the last Labor government of Britain, said in a speech at Plymouth:

"As a warm supporter of Anglo-American friendship I would like to impress upon our friends across the Atlantic that the activities of the (McCarthy) senatorial committee are a first class asset to the Communists in Europe."

Morrison said he wondered whether the American people realized "what a serious liability Sen. McCarthy was to America in the eyes of the rest of the democratic world."

London newspapers said McCarthy had won a victory over Stevens. Expressing surprise at the Stevens developments, the liberal News Chronicle said editorially:

"It seems inconceivable that Sen. McCarthy will be allowed by the President to disrupt and demoralize the Army as he has the State Department."

"It seems inconceivable But up to this moment the President has not demonstrated that any adequate precautions against such an outcome are being taken."

The Independent Times in a Washington dispatch quoted an unnamed highly placed general as saying that military men themselves believe Stevens has made a "complete and abject surrender" to McCarthy.

Plan Of George Loses

Backers Fail To Get Two-Thirds Majority

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate killed by a single vote Friday night the last surviving proposal to amend the Constitution and curb the President's treaty-making powers.

It was a victory for President Eisenhower, who had expressed unalterable opposition to the original Bricker Amendment and had failed to endorse a substitute by Sen. George (D-Ga.)—the only version which reached the final voting stage.

Sixty senators from both parties supported the George Amendment and only 31 opposed it, but the 31 were enough. A two-thirds majority of those present and voting is required for adoption of a constitutional amendment.

With the roll call standing at 60-30—just enough for passage of the highly controversial measure—Sen. Kilgore (D-WVa.) dashed into the chamber to cast the vote which killed it.

Nebraska Sens. Butler and Griswold, both Republicans, voted with the majority when the Senate rejected the George Amendment.

On an earlier roll call they had voted with the majority when the Senate substituted the George version for the White House approved plan on the Bricker Amendment. The vote was 61-30.

KNOWLAND SWINGS OVER

A few minutes earlier it looked like the George Amendment was going to be approved. In a last minute surprise, Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican floor leader, had announced he would vote for the George version.

The key clause of the George Amendment would have provided that international agreements become law only by act of Congress. At present, such agreements do not require any congressional action, while treaties must have two-thirds approval of the Senate.

Knowland said the choice he was confronted with on final passage was the George substitute or nothing, and that he preferred that the Senate pass an amendment and send it to the House. He expressed hope that it could be improved there.

"Speaking as a Senator, I could not ignore this," he said. "The GOP leader conceded that as far as he knew Eisenhower had not changed his view that the only amendments 'acceptable' were those which had just been discarded for the George draft."

But he said he thought "a dangerous tendency has developed" in the form of executive department encroachment on the legislative branch.

"Speaking as a Senator, I could not ignore this," he said. "The GOP leader conceded that as far as he knew Eisenhower had not changed his view that the only amendments 'acceptable' were those which had just been discarded for the George draft."

Supporters of a constitutional change to limit the scope of treaties have one other hope during this session of Congress.

A motion to reconsider the 60-31 vote could be filed within two calendar days by a senator who was absent Friday night or who voted "No." Three senators considered supporters of the amendment were absent: Sens. Bridges (R-NH), McCarran (D-Nev.) and Lennon (D-NC).

The two calendar days would expire Tuesday night.

Just before the final vote, George, in a voice choked with emotion, told the Senate:

Lengthy Debate

"This is the best amendment that can be worked out that does not disturb the historic relationship between the Congress and the President of the United States."

The issue has been debated in the Senate since Jan. 20.

8 Omaha Policemen Are Under Suspicion

... Suspended Man: 'They're Liars'

OMAHA (AP)—Omaha police officials Friday launched a full-scale probe into reports a group of Omaha policemen may be involved in recent burglaries here. There were these developments:

1. Patrolman John Wiles was relieved of duty by police chief Roy Strong pending completion of the investigation. Wiles, however, denied any connection with the case, telling reporters "they are liars."

2. Pete Villarreal, Union Pacific switchman and former part-time police garage employee, was charged with receiving stolen property. He was arraigned on the stolen property charge and released under $2,000 bond approved by Municipal Judge Frank Nimitz.

3. Two other patrolmen were found to have no tangible links with the case but several others were to be questioned. City officials promised a complete investigation.

"It is very hard to believe anything like this would happen," said Mayor Glenn Cunningham. "I'll be the most disappointed man in the city of Omaha if they find something seriously wrong."

"To have one (policeman) under suspicion isn't too bad," the mayor said. "But to have a group is awfully bad. In my opinion nothing could be worse than a dishonest cop. In this case, I hope they work twice as hard to find out the truth. It's a serious charge."

Two railroad employees, George W. Douglas, 27, and George B. Larson Jr., 28, both of Omaha, helped to break the case when they told of running on to it while helping to investigate a series of thefts from the Union Pacific railroad.

They signed a statement saying they were talking "because delays by police x x have caused us to receive threats. We want to get this information out in the open so no harm will come to our families."

Douglas said he had been an "undercover man" at the request of Union Pacific special agents since January. He had been trying to obtain information about thefts of railroad property. He became chummy with Villarreal, Douglas said.

They claimed to have the backing of policemen and "could do anything in Omaha and get away with it."

Douglas was quoted as saying that at the home of Patrolman Wiles, he was shown some new rifles in original cases. He was asked if he knew anybody who wanted to buy one of them. Patrolman Wiles did not appear at the time.

Douglas said he suggested Larson as a purchaser, then tipped off Larson to go ahead and take it. Larson and Douglas went then to railroad special agents who in turn presented the case to police.

Sgt. Harry Fielding, the chief's special investigator, picked up the rifle Thursday night at a special meeting place. Fielding said the gun's serial numbers corresponded with one taken recently in a burglary at the Sidles Co. here.

Police Commissioner Harold Caldwell said Friday he had known about the case "a few days ago. They told me that they were working on it. I didn't say anything at that time because I didn't want to hurt the chances of getting more particulars."

Cottonwood Is Gigantic

By JOHN SWANSON
Star Farm Editor

CEDAR CREEK, Neb. — C. E. Metzger who lives northeast of this northern Cass County village has some large farming and livestock operations that extend from cattle raising and feeding to a spreading hog ranch.

Together with this Metzger has a big and comfortable farm home and fine improvements on his place. But with all this, one of the features of his farmstead of which he is proudest is a cottonwood tree. There are a lot of cottonwoods in Nebraska and quite a few others on land owned by Metzger, but none, he believes, which can measure up to "the tree."

This cottonwood stands in a place of prominence, in the middle of the driveway just where it joins the road which runs by the Metzger place. And it dwarfs everything that passes beneath it. Here are its proportions:

Height: 106 feet.
Spread between branches: 142 feet.
Circumference: 25 feet where the trunk narrows in from the roots.

It is the spread between the branches to which Metzger points with particular pride. "There may be some taller trees," he acknowledged, "but there are none better proportioned." With this proportion in mind, he asserted that the prize cottonwood is "undoubtedly the biggest tree in the state. I have always been interested in trees and have traveled all over the state but I have never seen another tree to match this one."

The tree was planted 83 years ago by Metzger's father, Chris Metzger who came to Nebraska as one of the earliest pioneers in 1858. In its long life the cottonwood has withstood everything thrown its way by the elements.

Lightning has struck it many times, with some bolts splitting the tree down the trunk. But in all cases the tree has healed itself and has gone on growing.

Metzger is a former Nebraska state senator and is presently a member of the State Highway Commission.

Snoring Causes City Jail Fight; Inmate Is Knifed

The Lancaster County Attorney's office will be asked Saturday to file charges against a 29-year-old inmate of the Lincoln Jail who police said knifed a cellmate.

The prisoner, according to police, had told a cellmate in the jail bullpen to quit snoring. This threat was followed by a kick and a fight in which the cellmate was ripped several times with a knife, police said.

Fourteen stitches were taken in the cellmate's forehead and four in his temple following the bullpen fight.

Police said the knife used was evidently a paring knife, the type used for cleaning vegetables, but added they did not know where the man had gotten it. Another inmate not involved directly in the fight was slashed across the right forearm.

Lincoln Gets About .15:

Nebraska Blessed By More Moisture

The farmer had a right to prospects for a heavy accumulation of snow seemed to be fading.

The late evening forecast called for an end to the snow and rain in Eastern Nebraska by Saturday forenoon.

In Lincoln, the gentle rain had totaled .15 inches, on The Lincoln Star's unofficial rain gauge early Saturday morning.

Light snow was reported at North Platte and Sidney Friday night and light rain mixed with snow was reported at Grand Island and Imperial, and light rain at Lexington, Omaha and Gothenburg.

O'Neill got .50 in an afternoon rain while Nebraska City had a light shower.

Late Friday snowfall in Nebraska included about two inches on the ground at Chadron and a light snow shower at Sidney.

Lincolnite Better; Hurt In Arizona

Donald Lee Stanley, 17, of 924 Park, remained in serious condition but was reported making rapid improvement at a Holbrook, Ariz., hospital, following a car-tractor collision.

Stanley was injured in the mishap which cost the life of Sidney E. Seamark, 18, of 1327 So. 12th.

Mrs. Puri B. Stanley, the youth's grandmother with whom he lives, said she had received word that it may be possible to move him from the Arizona hospital to Lincoln some time next week. She said Stanley had been thrown on to the pavement when the collision occurred. He had been sleeping in the back seat.

Board Meets Saturday:

Dr. Bracy 'Leading Choice' As Mount Union President

ALLIANCE, O. — Dr. Carl Bracy, chancellor of Nebraska Wesleyan University in Lincoln, is regarded as a leading choice for election as president of Mount Union College by the board trustees, who meet here Saturday.

Although there is no certainty that the choice will be made Saturday, it is understood that the selection committee is prepared to submit its report on a possible successor to the late Dr. Charles B. Ketcham.

Dr. Bracy's name has been linked with the post and Dr. George L. King Jr. of Alliance, member of the board, says the selection is narrowed to two or three men. Dr. Bracy visited the campus in recent weeks.

The Mount Union presidency has been vacant since last April when Dr. Ketcham, president since 1939, was fatally struck by a heart attack. Dr. Ketcham was only the fifth president to serve the 106-year-old college.

Dean W. C. Wesley is now acting president of the 900 student Methodist institution.

Dr. Bracy, a native of Carterville, Ill., has been chancellor of Nebraska Wesleyan since 1949. He received his A. B. degree, magna cum laude, from McKendree College in Lebanon, Ill., in 1936, and his master of theology degree from Illinois School of Theology in 1940.

He has been an active minister in the Methodist Church and is past president of the Nebraska Association of Church Colleges and secretary-treasurer of the Nebraska Independent Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Cornhusker Council of Boy Scouts of America.

Four Killed In 'Buzzing' C-119 Crash

HUNTINGDON, Tenn. (AP) — An Air Force "Flying Boxcar" piloted by a hometown boy exploded over the courthouse on its second tree-top level pass Friday and carried the crew of four to flaming death.

Justice of the Peace J. H. Williams said the pilot definitely was "buzzing" the town. In aviator slang, "buzzing" means to swoop dangerously close to objects on the ground.

The pilot was identified by a Stewart Air Force Base officer as Lt. Jack Jenkins Jr., son of Mrs. Mabel Jenkins of Huntingdon.

Chief Deputy Charles Field said the plane, identified as a twin-engine C-119, sprayed burning gasoline and bits of wreckage over a four-block area before smashing into a field at the edge of town.

It was a clear, sunny day. Field and a small crowd were in a courtroom on the second floor of the two-story courthouse attending a trial when the plane first passed low over the city (Pop. 2,500).

'Beard Explosion'

"It sure broke up the trial," he said.

"Second time he came over town he was so low he looked like he was coming right in the courthouse. But he pulled up over and just as he went over I heard an explosion."

"Everybody was scared to death, running out in the street. I went up on the roof and found part of the wing and other pieces of the plane. We thought the plane had hit the 'op of the courthouse but I couldn't find any sign of it."

Power Policy Battle Will Center Here

3-Day Meeting Of REA

By E. R. ROTHENBERGER
Star Staff Writer

Nebraska will provide the setting for major testing of the Department of Interior's new and controversial policy on public power.

Where earlier skirmishes over the Department's new power criteria have been localized in area and issues, major forces and top command will confront one another in Lincoln early in March.

On one side it will marshal approximately 500 farmer directors of Nebraska's REA, representing 27 eastern division rural electrification agencies and 24 REA's from the Tri-State western division. These add up to all the rural electrification in the upper Missouri Basin, Nebraska, the one big exclusively public power state, will be in the center of it. The Tri-State section will bring in western Nebraska representation plus forces from nearby sections of Colorado and Wyoming.

They will be here for the annual three-day convention of the Nebraska Rural Electric Association, March 7, 8 and 9.

On Interior's side Assistant Secretary Fred G. Aandahl, aided by Ancher Nelson, federal REA administrator, and a staff of Washington aids of Secretary Douglas McKay will carry the burden for the department's power policy.

It will be up to Aandahl to sell the Department's policy. He will have to face a massed jury—one that pioneered in public power and rural electric service—one which is in no mood to countenance anything that will impair the health or the future of the hard-won, healthy REA.

If Aandahl can convince Nebraska that its doubts are groundless he will have removed a tremendous potential road block against the Interior's program.

But he won't be able to do it with generalities.

Said Association Secretary John Clemen: "Nebraska's REA directors will give Mr. Aandahl a cordial welcome and an attentive hearing but they are going to demand facts and precise definitions."

Rocky Path

It was conceded that Aandahl's path will become rocky or smooth a good deal as it goes in Nebraska. He will move on from here to Colorado and then into Wyoming. If Nebraska doesn't accept Aandahl's arguments the going will be rough. But if it is won over the center of potential resistance will be demobilized.

The Eastern Nebraska division so far has not felt the effects of the new power criteria. It is not in competition for federal power with private utilities. It draws its power from the Nebraska Public Power System—a public agency itself.

But it has a hot loyalty to the principle of REA. And it has the problem of providing for growth. It is not too far away from the question of getting added power from Gavins Point Dam in South Dakota where the power bidding involves both public and private power groups.

Capacity Exceeded

It is in the western division where the public-private-federal issue is already joined. REA estimates for future growth already exceed the production capacity of federal power in the Tri-State area where 33,000 kilowatts are being absorbed by private utilities. The match would handle the REA's growth loads up to 1960.

There is also a tentative loan okay for a $10,500,000 REA generating plant which would place the burden of added generation capacity on the REA's instead of private power. And there is the dilemma for the REA's whether to call for future capacity now and pay penalty charges for it, or to keep capacity at present energy-demand figures at the expense of growth and service, or to slide into investments for power generation as an escape. Tri-State REA leaders say any one of the three would hurt seriously and that REA is under the squeeze by the McKay administration.

The Tri-State delegation will move into the Lincoln meeting with a list of penetrating questions. Because it is under the heaviest fire and in the most urgent position it is expected to take the prominent part in the interrogation of Aandahl.

Gregory Cripps, manager of the Northwest Rural Power District at Hay Springs, said: "We want Mr. Aandahl to define what he means by short term contracts for the non-preference customers. Does he mean two years, five years or 15 years?"

"We shall also ask according to our concept of short term contracts how can a non-preference customer be expected to absorb federal power on a short term basis without endangering his power supply or finances?"

Houses To Go—State Gets Salvage

Two old Lincoln houses are being razed to make way for the new home of Woodmen Accident Co. However, since reformatory inmates are tearing them down so the state can have the salvage, criticism has been leveled by Arnold Boettcher, business representative for the Lincoln Carpenters.

Local, AFL. The insurance company gave the buildings, located between 15th and 16th on K, to the state in return for removing them. The state also has use of the corner lot on 16th for a parking lot until construction is started for the new building. At the right can be seen the remains of the Stanhope-Hall family home, an old Lincoln landmark. The two-family residence was purchased in 1888 by Dr. and Mrs. Reddington Stanhope and their daughter and son-in-law, Judge and Mrs. Charles L. Hall in 1888. Mrs. Hall, mother of Mrs. Ellery Davis, lived in the house until 1938. (Star Photo.)

Inmate Labor On Tearing Down Houses Brings Preble Protest

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

Reformatory inmates tearing down and salvaging three houses north of the Capitol which were given to the state by the Woodmen Accident Insurance Co. have aroused the ire of Gordon Preble, president of the Nebraska Federation of Labor (AFL).

The insurance company wanted the half block area cleared to make way for their proposed new office building.

Attorney General C. S. Beck said that the action of the Board of Control in accepting the buildings and having inmate labor salvage the materials was violating no state law. Use of the material at other state institutions or selling it is also authorized.

Chairman W. H. Diers of the Board of Control said their action was based on the provision in the statutes reading:

"The Board of Control shall engage in any trade or business, including manufacturing and farming, in the State Reformatory as they may deem to be for the best interests of the state, and for the advancement, reformation and instruction of the prisoners in useful trades."

Diers said that the material will be hauled to the Reformatory for use of state institutions and what is left will be sold for salvage, if we can sell it.

Preble contended the state was in competition with private industry. He opposed any sales to private individuals.

"This deprives working men of jobs and takes business away that belongs to private business," Preble said.

Two Lincoln members of the A.F. of L. went to the Reformatory and purchased two of the surplus windows. Supt. George Morris said $3 was paid for the second-hand windows and the money credited to the state.

According to Morris, and confirmed by Chairman Diers, no inventory is kept of surplus material at the institution because costs would be excessive and an accurate inventory impossible to keep because all surplus was obtained free and has no starting inventory value.

3 Charged In Iowa Murder

LOGAN, Ia. (INS)—Murder charges were filed at Logan Friday against three men identified as the trio that robbed and killed 50-year-old William Edwards.

Mondamin farmer, Monday night.

Named in the charges were Harold Glenn Henderson, 36, Sioux City;

Barrender, Morris Walsh, 40, also of Sioux City; and David Daniel Keegan, 34, of Trent, S. D.

Henderson reportedly signed a 12-page confession but denied he was the "trigger man" in the Edwards slaying.

Edwards was shot to death in his farmhouse when he refused to open his safe. The three masked bandits then bound and gagged Edwards' sister and cousin and carried the safe away, breaking it open and leaving the empty strong box at North Sioux City, S. D.

Held with Henderson at Sioux City was Walsh while local, state and federal authorities searched for Keegan.

Sioux City Detective Chief Harry Gibbons said Henderson's 37-year-old brother, Howard, also was held for questioning about events which occurred after the robbery. Also in custody were Robert R. Daseke, 25, of Sioux City, and hotel operator James F. Gray, 55.

A federal complaint of interstate transportation of stolen property was authorized against Keegan who was described as about five feet 11 inches tall, weighing 150 pounds and having dark hair and "popping" hazel eyes. He also has a birthmark two inches in diameter between his shoulder blades.

Fire Chief Feaster Suffers Leg Condition

Fire Chief E. Paul Feaster was reported in good condition Friday after being hospitalized for a condition involving a blood clot in the calf of his right leg.

Hospital officials at St. Elizabeth described Feaster's condition as good and improving. Chief Feaster said he likely would be released from the hospital Monday on the advice of his doctor.

9 Aboard Missing Airliner

CASPER, Wyo. (P)—A Los Angeles-to-Minneapolis Western Air Lines plane with six passengers and a crew of three aboard was missing Friday over rugged mountain area of northern Wyoming or South Dakota.

The Convair 240 airliner, running behind schedule, was last reported at 11:25 a.m. CST at Wright Junction, midway between Casper and Sheridan, Wyo., and about 300 miles from Minneapolis. Western Air Lines gave its scheduled arrival time at Rapid City, S. D., as 11:34 a.m. (CST) and 2 p.m. (3 p.m. CST) at Minneapolis.

An aerial search was hampered by poor weather. Falling snow and strong winds cut ground visibility to one-half mile at Casper.

WAL said the plane had sufficient fuel for two hours after the Rapid City scheduled landing there.

Planes Aloft

A ground search was started Friday afternoon by Western Air Line employees, state patrolmen and state highway department workers in both Wyoming and South Dakota.

Omahan Is Listed As Korean Dead

WASHINGTON (P)—The Army late Friday added to its list of presumed dead in Korea the name of Sgt. Donald R. Rice, son of Roy L. Rice, Omaha.

Rice's name was among 60 released by the Army. All previously had been reported missing in action.

TVA 'Here To Stay,' Says Clapp

Agency 'Not Creeping Toward Socialism'

CHICAGO (INS)—The chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority predicted Friday the new deal-born agency—21 years old this spring—is "here to stay" under the Republican administration despite continuing controversy.

Gordon Clapp, 49-year-old chief of the TVA's three-man board of directors since its birth in 1933, dismissed the project which "comes of age" in May with confidence that TVA's future is secure.

In Chicago to deliver a series of lectures, Clapp declared: "I can't believe the American people will overlook the benefits TVA has provided, or its honest, careful and responsible administration under the terms provided by Congress. It did something in the engineering field which had never been done before."

"There have been flood control projects and there have been power projects. There have been navigation projects. But never before has there been one project which tried and succeeded in doing all three."

'Not Galloping'

Clapp's appointment as chairman expires on TVA's 21st birthday.

He took issue with descriptions of TVA as Socialism. "It is not creeping or galloping toward that end," he said.

Clapp added: "I don't think the label of Socialism fits at all. The real test is—has TVA been beneficial or detrimental to the growth of private enterprise in the seven-state Southern area it serves?"

"The answer to that is 'yes, beneficial.' From sellers of fishing bait to electric appliance dealers there has been a record of continued economic growth."

News Around The Globe

Mitchell Hits Joe

WASHINGTON (INS)—Democratic Chairman Stephen Mitchell said Friday he has refused an invitation to "break bread" with Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), at a St. Patrick's Day banquet in Chicago.

Referring to McCarthy's "20 years of treason" charges against the Democrats, Mitchell told Chicago's Irish Fellowship Club, of which he is a member:

"I will not break bread with a man who has borne false witness against over 30 million Americans. The man who makes false charges of treason deserves the contempt of all citizens."

McCarthy commented: "It won't hurt my dinner at all to have him there."

New Crisis Shows

BEIRUT, Lebanon (P)—A new crisis between rival factions contending for power was reported to have developed in Syria Friday night, barely 24 hours after the Army forced the resignation of the strong man president, Abd Shishkehy.

The reports, telephoned from Damascus, the Syrian capital, said communications between the northern and southern parts of the country had been cut.

Republics To Meet

WASHINGTON (INS)—High officials said Friday the chief objective of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at the tenth Inter-American Conference will be adoption of a strong resolution to crack down on Communist expansion into the Western Hemisphere.

Dulles leaves Washington Sunday for Caracas, Venezuela, where the meeting of the 22 American republics convenes Monday.

Dock Fight Feared

NEW YORK (INS)—More labor trouble was boiling Friday on New York's strife-torn waterfront, and another general port tie-up was feared.

Dozens of Manhattan piers and some in Staten Island were closed by a dispute involving local 807 of the AFL Teamsters Union. The walkout might easily spread to Brooklyn and New Jersey piers.

Robber Killed

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (P)—A robber held up the manager of a supermarket Friday, robbed five tills of about $6,000 and then was shot by a policeman as he tried to escape in a car.

Police identified the man as Ralph Lockerby, 23, and said records showed him to be an escaped inmate of the Washington State Reformatory.

Surplus Material System Saves State Thousands

By ARCH DONOVAN
Star Staff Writer

Thousands and thousands of dollars are being saved Nebraska taxpayers through the action of Supt. George Morris of the Men's Reformatory and the Board of Control in agreeing to act as a clearing house and warehousing surplus material obtained from the federal government.

The federal surplus must go to schools and hospitals and the work is co-ordinated by the state superintendent's office. Nebraska has the only reformatory in the nation with a school fully qualified to participate in the program.

Thursday inmates were busy unloading $28,000 worth of surplus electrical equipment. When surplus is made available, schools must accept all offered whether usable or not. At the reformatory the surplus is sorted and worthless items junked and schools of the state come and get just the items they need.

Morris says that an average of 10 schools arrive daily and leave with one or more truck loads of the surplus. Steel is one of the items eagerly sought for manual training. Schools pay 4 cents a pound the hauling cost from surplus depots where otherwise they would have to pay 30 cents per pound.

The Beatrice schools have obtained about five tons of steel and Nebraska City schools about 11,600 feet of lumber. The reformatory now has about 600,000 feet of lumber salvaged from the wrecking of surplus buildings at army camps.

Chairman W. H. Diers of the Board of Control said that the Court Says Report Not Good Evidence

Reports of an investigation made by investigators from the Police Department and the Child Welfare Department are not competent evidence and may not be considered by the hearing and decision of a disputed issue of fact, the State Supreme Court held Friday.

The decision came in the appeal of Dorothy Godden from a Lancaster County District Court suit brought by Dorothea W. Ripley et al., in which it was charged that Michael Allen Godden was a dependent, neglected child.

The trial court agreed with the charges and temporary custody was given to the Child Welfare Department. It held that the hearing was a juvenile proceeding, informal in character and that the mother was not entitled to have a record kept of evidence.

The Supreme Court held that the Juvenile Court act did not create a new court but merely conferred new and additional powers on the District Court and did not change rules of practice in that court.

Beatrice State Home had obtained 500 pairs of shoes from surplus at a transportation cost of $500 which would have cost wholesale a minimum of $2,500. Salvage operations are the biggest activity at the Reformatory during the non-farming months. Practically all of the material is disposed of to either state institutions or other governmental subdivisions.

Schools have purchased prefabricated sections of buildings wrecked at military installations for use in building additions to existing facilities.

Schools which were at first slow to take advantage of the surplus until Beatrice, Nebraska City, Lincoln, Boys Town and a few other larger schools made large requisitions are now avidly seeking the surplus and hauling it away faster than new shipments are received.

Morris said that one school took the seats out of two school buses and used them for trucks to haul full loads home.

The huge storehouse has everything from a couple of baby cribs to large electric transformers, flood lights and a huge power mower and combine. Tons and tons of all kinds of steel are stored in the warehouse. Alongside are pot-belly stoves, paint oil and other items it is expected to take a year to distribute.

Professional Engineers Form Southeast Group

The Southeast Chapter of the Nebraska Society of Professional Engineers has been organized. The 23 persons present at the first meeting adopted by-laws and elected interim officers to serve until the first annual meeting in April.

The interim officers are W. B. Boucher, president; L. E. Donegan, president-elect; H. G. Schlitt, vice president; T. A. Filipi, treasurer; H. M. McMaster, secretary; Paul Sonderegger, director; and L. N. Ress, director.

The Southeast Chapter is the first local chapter in Nebraska. The Eastern Chapter at Omaha and the Mid-State Chapter at Grand Island are in the process of organizing.

'School Spending Will Hit Taxpayer'

Increased spending by city and village schools will mean that Nebraska taxpayers will have to dig down deep in their pockets to pay the bill, warned the Nebraska Citizens Council.

The council's report says that city school taxes have not followed the downward trend set by counties and the state this year.

City and village school taxes have increased 7.2 per cent, or $25 million, from last year, to a total of $37.8 million.

Douglas County and Panhandle counties report the largest increases, according to the council.

The Citizens Council said that improved purchasing and budgeting procedures and school restricting might reduce the city and village school tax bite from property taxes.

What Makes A Judge?

NEW YORK (AP) — Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard, the man who sentenced Alger Hiss, retired recently and took the occasion to list these qualities as necessary to be a good judge: "A judge must have patience, firmness and courtesy he must know the law, but also must do a lot of research, he must have a good memory, but not depend on it entirely; he should like his work and work at it, and above all, he must decide a case on its merits and nothing but its merits."

Beacon Light Of Hope

Out of all the states in the nation, Nebraska has been singled out by a group of political science experts as a shining ray of hope for the cure of many of the ills of state legislatures.

This state's unicameral was praised in a proposal made by a 12-member study committee of the American Political Science Association. This proposal called for a major overhaul of what the committee described as "time-consuming legislative procedures, antiquated organizations, inadequate and incompetent staff service."

Yet, through the chairmen and executive officers of political parties in this state, the people of Nebraska first were told that their legislative procedures can be improved by junking the unicameral and going back to the old fashioned two-house or bicameral legislature. Then, when that fell flat, the same group announced they would seek to change the unicameral to a partisan body, enlarged in membership. There is no objection to a larger membership but this partisan business merits thought.

The basic need of a unicameral was pointed out when the political science committee stated that a single house seems a more logical framework upon which to hang any improvements that might be considered to remove practical objections to the bicameral form. A form which the committee reports has obsolete and illusory reasons for its existence.

Survey Of The Rules

If the sky seemed bluer and the sunshine a little more mellow Friday, credit Sen. Ferguson, Michigan Republican, with an "assist."

In Washington he announced that the Senate Republican Policy Committee has ordered a study looking to possible changes in the rules under which investigations such as those made by Sen. McCarthy are conducted. The study itself, long overdue and so badly needed, approved by unanimous vote of the policy group, apparently could not constitute anything more than a recommendation for the guidance of Senate committees or subcommittees. Sen. Ferguson indicated that he would call all Senate committee chairmen together to discuss not only proposed changes in the rules governing the calling of witnesses and their testimony rights, but also the makeup of the investigating committee themselves. To be determined later, Sen. Ferguson said, was the question of whether the full Senate will be asked to adopt a code for investigations or whether committees will act separately on such a code. The move, it was revealed, originated in the Senate, and was not suggested by the White House nor by Vice President Nixon.

The public, we assume, should not be too picaresque in its expressed desire for more orderly procedure in the conduct of congressional investigations, but there is a sardonic bit of humor in the latest development. A general should not be subjected to abusive treatment when called as a witness, Secretary of War Stevens insists. We agree with that 100 per cent. A general or a lowly GI should be treated with respect by Joe Mc-

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Members of the faculty committee, appointed to work with and to assist the University of Nebraska Board of Regents in its hunt for a new chancellor for the university to succeed Dr. R. G. Gustavson, have expressed themselves on this matter of premature publicity relating to educators who may be considered for that post.

It is a faculty committee representative of the professional colleges within the University of Nebraska. Its chairman, Prof. C. M. Hicks, is chairman of the department of business organization in the Biz Ad College, Dr. M. A. Basoco heads the department of mathematics in the College of Arts and Sciences. Prof. Marvel L. Baker, in charge of animal husbandry at the College of Agriculture, is associate director of the agriculture experiment station. Niles A. Barnard, professor of mechanical engineering and chairman of the department, is associated with the Engineering College. David Dow, professor of law, comes from the Law College; Dr. D. A. Worcester comes from the Teachers College. These men, speaking for the faculty in its understandable deep concern in the search for a chancellor, in forthright spirit meet an issue raised by a Lincoln evening newspaper in insistent demand that the names of men contacted by the regents during the period of preliminary talks be made public.

"Such publicity," the committee said in a formal statement issued by it, "does not aid in obtaining the interest of a maximum number of good men and as a practical matter only makes more difficult the task of selection." That is only common sense, an everyday experience both in private and public life. This paper has subscribed to it from the beginning of the discussion, recognizing as do the members of the faculty group counseling with the Board of Regents in the search for a chancellor that in the best traditions of public interest, such procedure is sound.

It is a relatively simple matter to pose as a public benefactor in a cry, frequently mounting to a scream, that the regents release the name of every man they interview in their preliminary investigation into the qualifications of different individuals whose names have been submitted by the faculty committee assisting them, or from other sources. It is so easy to dramatize this thing, to project one's self in heroic role as a public servant, seeking to protect the public from its own duly elected representatives. The Board of Regents is an elective body. Its members serve without pay or compensation. The faculty committee, speaking for the faculty, is composed of a group of men serving in the highest spirit of devotion with but one single purpose in mind and that is to choose the best man available for the post of chancellor.

The faculty committee represents the faculty. Its existence is expressive of the desire of the Board of Regents, which in itself is responsible for the creation of the committee, of the board's desire to consult and advise with the faculty. The regents, who are elected by the people of this state, serving the people as the governing board of the University of Nebraska, actually represent the people. Now both regents and faculty have spoken. That ought to be enough, granted that it may conflict with some individual's notion of grandeur and infallibility of wisdom.

Inconsistent

Private power has always claimed that it can build plants, transmit electricity and in general run business more efficiently and economically than public power. Perhaps that is so.

But just on that point it is to be noted that where both private and public agencies are using and competing for federally produced power in the Tri-State (Colorado, Nebraska, Wyoming) area, a loan has been tentatively authorized by the federal REA administration for a new $10.5 million steam generating plant. Its ultimate production is expected to relieve some of the pressing need in that area. There has been no announcement of plant building plans there by the private utilities.

So long as there is a demonstrated need and indications that the REA's could provide for growth if it were made convenient for them out of the capacity of present federal power sources why is it that the private are not stepping into the breach, why are they not demonstrating the validity of their claims to efficiency and economy by building new generation of their own? Here would be a good place to demonstrate the point—at the same time make it unnecessary for additional public loans at a time when the national administration is trying to diminish federal activity.

But the silence of the private utilities plus their continued plans to use even more publicly generated power stand as a mute indictment to their claims until they do something to make it different.

Gaining On Polio

Dr. E. A. Rogers, Nebraska acting state health director, has noted that laboratory delays in the production of the new anti-polio vaccine have been largely overcome, and it will still be possible for pilot tests before the 1954 polio season. He believes Nebraska will get a portion of the vaccine late this spring. Since twenty specialists studied the results of the gamma globulin tests of two years ago and found them not convincing enough, added interest and hope are being reposed in the new vaccine.

Only use will determine its effectiveness. But it does have basic advantages. One is that the vaccine can be held locally approximately a year without losing character. That means stockpiling and availability. Another is that it does not require proof of active polio and special timing of its application. Thus from the outset was a handicap in the employment of gamma globulin.

Thus the fight against polio continues—an indecisive engagement in the first instance, but better ground and improved weapons for the next engagement.

New Kings Of Dogs

The zeal that holds the country for wiping away the past has even invaded the animal kingdom. We are putting an end to the farm program, high level living and old fashioned warfare. Now comes the American Kennel Club to say that the cocker spaniel no longer rules the roost.

That excellent little doggie that has been the ruling household pet has lost its subsidies, too, its social security and its rights to people. It is back to free enterprise again, the best way it can make it.

The new dog is the beagle. He is getting the satin pillow, the red ribbon bow and the right to his picture on cans of dog food. A little better hunter than the cocker the beagle however is no master of the tender lovable look. But he is primarily a searcher, a barker into dark holes, a growler in the dark and a suspect of strangers. Perhaps that is why the nerve wracked Americans are finding him so companionable right now.

Dulles' Work Fails To Please Knowland

WASHINGTON—When Dean Acheson used to come back from international conferences President Truman invariably met him at the airport to show that he stood firmly behind his secretary of state and the difficult foreign policies he was trying to execute.

When John Foster Dulles got back from Berlin, however, not only was not president at the airport but he stepped into a hornet's nest of opposition, not from the Democrats, but from his own GOP colleagues on Capitol Hill. Most effective stinger in the hornet's nest was none other than the Republican leader of the Senate, able Bill Knowland of California.

No other had Secretary Dulles got the last sentence out of his mouth in reporting to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee at a closed-door session, than Sen. Knowland sailed into him. Bluntly he challenged Dulles' judgment in agreeing to sit down with Red China at the Geneva conference. This, he said, was a step toward recognition.

Knowland also objected to putting Indo-China on the agenda of the Geneva conference. The Korean war, he pointed out, was a United Nations venture, while the Indo-China war is not.

But, replied Dulles, it would have been impossible to hold the conference at all without including Indo-China. Otherwise it would have looked as if the Russians were willing to settle France's biggest headache while the United States was not. "The alternative would have been worse," interrupted the secretary of state, General "Beetle" Smith. "The present French government would have fallen, and France would have pulled out of Indo-China altogether."

DISASTER AHEAD

At least one Republican, Wiley of Wisconsin, vigorously stood up for the Republican secretary of state, though several others were sympathetic, including kindly Sen. Saltonstall of Massachusetts. But Knowland still wasn't satisfied. He charged that the French would now settle the war in Indo-China by establishing a coalition Indo-Chinese government, a coalition which would include Communists. This, he said, would eventually result in the Communists dominating the country—a disaster for the West.

Few other senators questioned the secretary of state. Knowland dominated the cross-examination. He was persistent, outspoken, but never heated. As the closed-door meeting broke up, Dulles remarked pleasantly to his chief heckler:

"I take it that I haven't answered all your questions satisfactorily."

"No, you haven't, Mr. Secretary," agreed Knowland grimly.

"We'll have to talk again some more about this," Dulles told Knowland earnestly.

Note—Dulles claimed that the West had scored a diplomatic victory regarding the United European Army because Molotov's tactics were so crude that he strengthened EDC.

FROM JAIL TO CAPITAL

Jan Hvasa, the ex-GI who miraculously escaped from a Czechoslovak jail, was riding past the Capitol Building the other evening. It was the first time he had even been in Washington, and the Capitol dome, under scrutiny of the searchlights, stood in magnificent silhouette against the horizon.

"It certainly gives me a thrill to see that," Hvasa remarked. "I've heard about the buildings here in Washington, but they were times when I never expected to see them."

"People in Czechoslovakia don't get much of a thrill out of their buildings, especially government buildings," he added. "In fact, they don't get any thrill out of their government. But here you do. At least I do, and I think most people do. We may miss out our government, but we appreciate it just the same."

Hvasa was loath to talk in a TV interview about his experiences in the country where he spent four years in jail, plus two years in hiding. But the fact that he was able to hide out for almost two years among the Czech people he attributes to just one thing: The regard for America and their dislike of the Communist regime.

"The word American is a passport in Czechoslovakia," he said, explaining to me how he was able to travel 200 miles from his prison in Leopoldov to the American embassy in Prague. "I never would have been taken in by Czech families along the way had I not been an American."

FREEDOM BALLOONS

Hvasa was greatly interested in the freedom balloons which this writer helped to launch from the German border into Czechoslovakia three years ago, carrying messages of hope and friendship.

"I heard about the balloons though I didn't see any," he said. "What the people there need is exactly this kind of encouragement. All the people behind the Iron Curtain are strong for America, but they have to be reminded that we have not forgotten them. We have far more friends than we realize, but we don't take advantage of that fact."

Hvasa was interested to hear that Senator Douglas of Illinois had introduced a bill providing $2,000,000 to send food balloons behind the Iron Curtain. Congressman Rodino of Newark, N.J., the man who did so much to keep the State Department from forgetting Hvasa's plight, told him that he was introducing a companion bill in the House of Representatives.

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Lawyers for the New York Times and New York Herald Tribune warned that it was libelous to print the names of the twelve women whom James Roosevelt listed in his incriminating letter to his wife. The letter is not a privileged document. Several of the twelve women are now cogitating libel suits against papers that did print their names. Last week business failures throughout the United States numbered 277 as against 200 just one year ago. . . . The Democrats are warming up a campaign slogan to fit recession days. It reads: "It's un-American to be unemployed." . . . Negro groups have quietly abandoned their fight for an FEPC law and are now planning to seek an amendment to the Taft-Hartley law to make it illegal to deny a man a job because of color. Under Taft-Hartley, it's already illegal to deny a job because of union membership, and Negro leaders want that provision extended to include race and religion.

ARCH DONOVAN

In Step With The Sower

"Everything happens to me," exclaimed Arch Donovan, Gen. C. S. Beck as he explained that he is a director of the Murdoch bank which was recently the victim of a holdup.

"We have a policy that employees are not to resist in case of a visit by bank robbers. Instead of buying fire-arms to defend the bank, we buy robbery insurance."

When prompt Arch Donovan action of peace officers caught the bandit and recovered the money, Beck moaned that there was a shortage of $10.

"The insurance company offered to pay the $10 and no questions asked," Beck said, "but then our premium rate would have gone up because we had suffered loss."

But the Sower soon learned that the door lock on Beck's face was not caused by banking troubles but rather the almost daily reports from the office of the secretary of state that someone was hinting for political office.

"What I can't understand," the attorney general moaned, "is why the 'dear people' always insist, demand and urge that candidates file for public office. I have sought office a number of times from county attorney to attorney general."

"Never has there been a demand that I file. I just have to ask for the office because I want it. And there have been times the people did not want me."

"If I could get just one letter urging me to run, like other candidates tell about, I might seek re-election."

Probably one of the most thoroughly investigated, studied and discussed constitutional amendments ever to be submitted for public approval is now in petition form to be circulated for the 60,000 needed signatures to place it on the general election ballot.

It would provide a judiciary on the basis of merit rather than on the political skill of judges to get votes and still retain in the hands of the electors control over the courts.

Stories Of Famous Hymns

Amazing Grace

Amazing grace! how sweet the sound,
That saved a wretch like me:
I once was lost, but now am found;
Was blind, but now I see.

'Twas grace that taught my heart to fear,
And grace my fears relieved;
How precious did that grace appear
The hour I first believed!

Thro' many dangers, toils and snares,
I have already come;
'Tis grace hath brought me safe thus far,
And grace will lead me home.

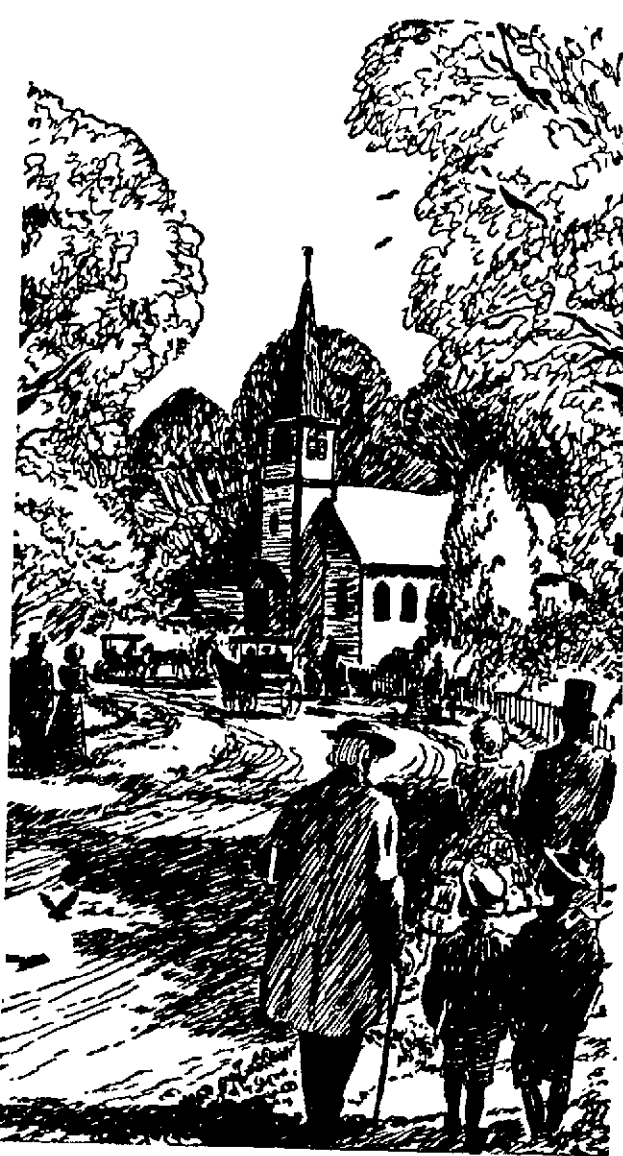

When we've been there ten thousand years,
Bright shining as the sun,
We've no less days to sing God's praise
Than when we first begun.

By HORACE B. POWELL

This is one of the best-known and best-loved hymns in a long list turned out by the Rev. John Newton, eighteenth century English churchman.

In his earlier years, John Newton lived far from the church and from religion. He was a lad of seven when his mother died and lacking her care and influence he drifted into Godless ways. He went to sea and in the course of events became a trader in African slaves.

His conversion came one night during a terrifying storm at sea when it seemed for a time as though his slave ship would be capsized and wrecked. John Newton learned to pray that night and when his vessel came through to safety he felt that the prayer had been answered. He was in his early twenties at the time and from that day on his life was completely changed. Soon afterward, at the age of 25, he married an English girl and was persuaded to study for the ministry. He was ordained by the Church of England in 1764 and that same year began a ministry at Olney, where, with his friend William Cowper, he later produced the famous volume of "Olney Hymns." It was in this collection, brought out in 1779, that the hymn "Amazing Grace" first appeared.

The People Speak

Worth The Waiting

Somewhere in Nebraska. To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In The Star (Feb. 18) there was a letter from a Beatrice couple on adoption red tape. The couple wanted someone to tell them what was being done about a little girl they've been waiting two years for.

Their welfare worker probably has told them countless times that there just aren't any little girls coming into the orphanage. Yet they hear stories of homeless children or babies being left on doorsteps, or someone next door knows of someone who just adopted a baby without having to wait as long as they.

They probably sweat out the mailbox each morning for a letter saying "We have a little girl for you," and every time the phone rings they probably rush to answer it, hoping it will be the welfare worker. But as every day goes by just remembering that your welfare worker has a mighty long list of prospective parents just like you and that each welfare worker has a list equally as long. So you're not waiting alone.

But remember this, too: After you do get that call or letter you've waited so long for and go to get your little girl, then you'll have another year of waiting, only this time every time you get a letter from your welfare worker you'll dread opening it. That year will go slower than the first two or three, but the day the judge stamps his seal on your baby's birth certificate you'll be the happiest parents on earth.

And after the waiting is all over and you walk down the street and a stranger comes up to you and says, "My, what a cute little girl. She looks just like her mother," you'll feel like a million and maybe even answer, "I think so, too." Then and only then, you'll know what they were doing about your baby.

Oh, here's my daughter—She just called me "Mom." That's worth waiting for.

AN ADOPTIVE PARENT.

Blood Program

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: We want to thank The Star for the splendid support given the Armed Forces Red Cross Blood Program in the recruitment of blood donors. The American National Red Cross has now asked that our Lancaster County chapter go on a stand-by basis in its program of blood recruitment for the Armed Forces. This is because an ample supply of plasma has now been stockpiled since the Korean war, and because the greatly reduced current needs for whole blood by the Armed Forces can be met by those counties participating in the Red Cross civilian programs. In Lincoln civilian needs have always been met and will continue to be met by blood banks operated by our local hospitals.

Memories Of Outbreak

Raymond, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Fred Lund of St. Louis, Missouri, in Monday's Star asked for information as to the date of the prison outbreak of "Shorty" Gray, Morley and Dowd.

They escaped during a raging snowstorm on March 14, 1912, after killing the warden, the deputy warden, and an usher, and having wounded a guard. They were captured near Louisville on March 15 after a running gun fight. Gray and Dowd were shot, also Roy Blount, a young farmer whom the convicts had forced to drive for them. Morley was returned to prison.

I remember the incident, and referred to it in my diary. We were living southeast of Davey at that time, and the newspapers said it was supposed to be the date of the prison outbreak of "Shorty" Gray, Morley and Dowd. I think every farmer living in line toward Waverly was afraid, as we were, wondering what we would do if they stopped to demand food or shelter. It was a relief to read of their capture. I remember the terrible snowstorm of March 14. The name of the sheriff who captured them was Gus Hyers.

Plans are nearing completion for another phase in the city's $8.5 million water system improvement program.

The next work on which bids will be taken is the approximate $300,000 expansion of the Ashland pumping station. Preliminary plans for new equipment at the station have been submitted by Black & Veatch of Kansas City, Mo., to the city engineering department.

Final plans and specifications, according to City Engineer D. L. Erickson, will be ready shortly. Another big project remaining is the $800,000 expansion of the well field at Ashland. Plans and specifications on this project are being prepared by Fulton & Craner of Lincoln.

Meanwhile, a major part of the concrete work on the new 5 million gallon water reservoir at 51st Street is completed. Favorable weather has greatly aided this work.

Work is also underway on installing the electrical conduit and wiring for the three electric distribution pumps to be placed in the station at 51st.

The major link in the improvement program, the new 48-inch transmission line from Ashland to Lincoln, is also being pushed ahead. The pipe is currently under construction by the Lock Joint Pipe Co. of East Orange, N.J., with installation expected to start near the end of April by Charles F. Smith & Sons of Dayton, O.

This nearly $3 million project is the key to the entire improvement program. Until more water can be transported to Lincoln, increased pumping, distribution and storage facilities are of little value. The pipeline is expected to be finished by the summer of 1955.

New Trial Asked In Postma Case

A motion for a new trial in the Robert E. Postma case has been filed in Lancaster District Court by Dept. Co. Atty. Rollin Bailey. Postma was released from county jail following a habeas corpus hearing last week before District Judge Harry Spencer.

Judge Spencer ruled Postma was unlawfully deprived of liberty by failure of the Municipal Court to fix the amount of an appeal bond and grant the defendant the right of appeal.

Bailey's motion for a new trial alleges the District Court finding erred in releasing the defendant without bond and in not establishing and fixing the amount of an appeal bond.

Postma had gone to jail after pleading guilty in Municipal Court to driving under a license suspension. He was sentenced to 30 days and fined $50.

While Postma was in jail, his attorneys sought his right of appeal immediately following a Supreme Court ruling in a Douglas County case and bearing on the Postma case.

$1,700,000 Federal-Aid Road Funds Allocated To Nebraska

An additional $1,700,000 in federal-aid highway funds has been allocated to Nebraska counties for immediate programming, State Engineer L. N. Riss said Friday. This money is available to the counties only if placed under agreement for specific projects by Jan. 1, 1955.

It is in addition to approximately $1,600,000 allocated to the counties for programming by Jan. 1, 1955, and $2,000,000 previously allocated to Nebraska for matching by the counties by June 30, 1955.

Construction Begins On Seward Civic Center

This is an architect's drawing of the new Seward Civic Center, being built for the city of Seward under terms of the will of the late Jessie T. Langworthy, prominent Seward resident. Workmen are now completing the basement walls and foundation with the entire structure scheduled for completion this year. The large colonial design structure will face south on the corner of Sixth and Bradford Streets in Seward. (Drawing Special to The Star.)

Two U.S. 30 Projects Included In Bids Acceptable On March 4

Resurfacing of U.S. Highway 30 east of Cozad is one of the major projects for which sealed bids will be accepted by the State Department of Roads and Irrigation on March 4.

State Engineer L. N. Riss announced sealed bids would be accepted then for 13 projects including grading, resurfacing and new bridges.

The Cozad project, scheduled to begin by April 12, calls for grading, concrete pavement, guard rail and asphaltic concrete resurfacing on 10 miles of U.S. 30.

Bids will also be accepted for 11.1 miles of paved road running west of Osceola to U.S. 30. Construction is to begin by May 3.

Another project scheduled is that of grading, culverts, guard rail, stabilized soil base course, armor coat, bituminous sand surface course and bituminous mat surface for 9.6 miles between Holdrege and Elm Creek on U.S. 183.

U. S. 81 Paving

Bids will also be accepted for work on 6.2 miles of U.S. 81 between Chester and Hebron. Work will include grading, concrete pavement, culverts, and preparation of subgrade and armor coat for the detour. Work is to begin by April 19.

State Highway 11 is scheduled for grading, construction of two bridges and bituminous mat surface for 6.1 miles south of Atkinson. Bridges are to be begun by May 17 and highway construction by May 31.

All projects for which bids will be accepted were scheduled for improvement upon the basis of the sufficiency rating system. Under this system, highways are rated on a scientific basis and those most urgently needing improvement are the first to receive consideration.

Other projects for which bids will be accepted are:

- Grading of 12 miles of earth road and three bridges between Pawnee City, Dubois and the Kansas state line.
- Grading of three miles of earth road 9.9 miles of oil road and two bridges from O'Neill and Chambers east and west.
- Grading of eight miles of earth road and two bridges between Norfolk and Yankton.
- Grading of nine miles of earth road and one bridge and guard rail between Norfolk and Yankton.
- Construction of four miles of oil road running east of Atkinson toward O'Neill.
- Five miles of gravel road west of O'Neill.
- Thirteen and one half miles of gravel road running northeast from Blair.
- Six miles of gravel road running east from Burr.

Sabel Request Is Under Advisement

SIOUX CITY, Iowa (AP)—District Judge Ralph W. Cray took under advisement Friday a defense motion that the state be required to make its charges more specific in a perjury indictment against Mark Sabel, Sioux City fruit broker. The defense motion was for a bill of particulars.

Sabel is accused of making false statements under oath to County Attorney Wallace W. Huff about his income and about other licenses.

Sabel's attorneys asked for a stay order to Judge Cray's rulings of last Wednesday when he refused to quash the indictment. They said they intend to appeal to the Iowa Supreme Court on grounds that Huff had no power to call Sabel to his office or to take testimony under oath.

Following the hearing the state filed the names of 15 additional witnesses who it said gave testimony in support of the perjury indictment. They included seven tavern operators, the clerk of the District Court, a city detective, a stage agent and three businessmen.

Spalding Tot Dies Of Burns

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (P)—Emily Marie Swiener, 6, of Spalding, died in a Grand Island hospital Friday of first degree burns suffered in the kitchen of her farm home.

It was believed the child came too close to a propane gas stove in the kitchen and her dress was ignited. A sister, Mrs. James Whalen, said the girl was in the house alone at the time.

Her father, Antone A. Swiener, who was milking at the time, saw the girl run from the house screaming, her clothes afire. He suffered burns about the hands in attempting to extinguish the flames.

Emily Marie was taken to a Spalding hospital and later was transferred to a hospital here.

The child's mother was reported to be a patient in a Denver hospital. The Swieners live five miles west of Spalding.

Read... IN THE SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 28th LINCOLN Sunday Journal and Star Struggle for Power

In the still of a winter night a year ago a medical bulletin from the Kremlin sent a wave of shock through the Communist world.

On the free side of the Iron Curtain, men permitted themselves a bit of hope.

Stalin was dead. Would his successor inaugurate a new policy of genuine peace with the West?

The answer is apparent today. And the behind-the-scenes maneuverings, plots and counter plots that lead up to it make one of modern history's most fascinating stories.

It's a graphic word picture of the struggle for power behind the Kremlin walls, of the violence, death and warring of the olive branch that marked Premier Malenkov's first few months in command, of the serious unrest in Russia's satellites, and of the Big Four parley at Berlin which plainly caught the Russians off guard.

Read about Georgi Malenkov's first year in power, his probable aims at home, in Europe, in critical Asia—and his box score to date.

High Cost Of Curtis Plan Hit At State Welfare Meet

Whether or not the Social Security program will continue to be a wage-related, contributory program or be changed to a general pension plan is a question which the people—and Congress—soon will have to decide.

That was the summation of opinion expressed by panel members discussing the proposed expansion of the program at a meeting of the Nebraska Welfare Association at the YMCA.

The Rev. J. J. Dumas, pastor of the Lincoln Unitarian Church, moderated the discussion. Panel members included Dr. Garnet Larson of the University of Nebraska school of social work; U. S. Sewall, manager of the Lincoln Social Security Administration field office; and John F. Wenstrand, chief of the Nebraska Division of Public Welfare office of research statistics.

Sewall pointed out that the present program is a wage-related program designed to "provide a measure of protection against loss of income from death, inability to work, or retirement at 65."

He added that there are now 221 bills before Congress proposing changes in the Social Security (Old Age and Survivors' Insurance) Act.

The two major bills are the administration bill (which Sewall said would not fundamentally change the program) but would broaden coverage; and the bill proposed by Rep. Carl Curtis (R-Neb).

The panel members agreed

Grasshoppers, Chinch Bugs May Hit State

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department said Friday grasshoppers, Mormon crickets and chinch bugs could be more than normally troublesome to farmers and ranchers in the west and midwest next summer.

Surveys were said to indicate that grasshopper infestations would be heaviest in parts of Missouri and Wisconsin. Infestations of lesser extent were expected in southeastern Nebraska, eastern Kansas, southern Iowa and central Illinois.

Likewise, grasshopper control measures were expected to be needed in parts of New Mexico, Colorado, Idaho, Texas and Oklahoma. Serious outbreaks were said to be possible—if weather conditions are unsatisfactory—for parts of Arizona, California, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah and Wyoming.

Control of Mormon crickets were expected to be necessary on limited areas in California, Idaho, Montana, Nevada and Utah.

The department said chinch bugs can be numerous enough to be destructive to corn and small grains in parts of Nebraska, Arkansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas and Oklahoma.

Depression Talk Alarmists Under Attack By Hruska

OMAHA (AP)—Rep. Hruska (R-Neb) said that the current rise in unemployment is not alarming considering the season and the impact of the shooting war's end.

He criticized "depression alarmists" in a speech before the South Omaha Traffic Club. "Let me assure you," Hruska said, "that this national situation is being watched closely by the administration. President Eisenhower has stated that should the need arise he will cause to be used such governmental action as will be necessary for corrective action."

Cites '50 Figures But, the second district congressman declared, the unemployment rate back in January, 1950, was 7.6 per cent, about twice what it is today.

"At that time President Truman and Truman economist Leon Keyserling are reported to have referred to that slump as 'an inevitable adjustment,' 'a transition period,' 'a moderate decline,'" said Hruska. "At that time the present gloom and doom prophets were members of the majority."

Hawaii Petition Trucked To Capitol

WASHINGTON (AP)—A giant petition for Hawaii statehood, weighing 250 pounds and signed by 120,000 residents of the territory, arrived Friday for presentation to the Senate.

The document, a roll of newspaper seven feet wide and about 500 feet long, was received at the airport by Gov. Samuel Wilcox and Delegate Farrington of Hawaii, and representatives of the Interior Department and the Senate Interior Committee.

It was trucked to the capitol in an Interior Department truck.

The Hawaii statehood bill has been passed by the House and awaits Senate action.

An April Bride-Elect

MISS SUZANNE HOLMES

THIS MORNING Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Holmes of Kearney are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Suzanne, to William Alan Hodder, son of Mrs. Velma Warren Hodder of Lincoln, and Ernest C. Hodder of Grand Rapids, Mich.

The wedding is planned for Saturday, April 3, and the ceremony will be solemnized at 4 o'clock in the afternoon —at a recent joint meeting of the medical society and the bar association the doctors and the barristers were discussing the lie detector. One distinguished member of the local bar spoke up to say that, "The only experience I've had with the lie detector is that I married one!"

—five-year-old Linda was explaining heaven to her mother. "Mommie, it's where all little girls go and become angels." "But Linda," asked her mother, "What about the little boys—don't they go to heaven, too?" "Oh, no," was Linda's reply. "They stay here in the ground."

—thought Mamie Eisenhower's early spring hat shopping might be of interest. Among the First Lady's choices are a pink silk shantung wavy brim sailor, a navy straw "little girl" roller trimmed in pale blue flowers, a white straw breton with irregular brim, and a chartruse Toyo "Lantern" hat with tiny China birds caught in the folds—all of the smart, but pretty variety.

—in the "out-of-the-ordinary" gift department for an anniversary or a birthday—a membership in one of the city's oldest civic organizations, The Nebraska Art Association, that is opening its month-long exhibition of contemporary art this coming Sunday, Feb. 28, with the annual showing of the Living Pictures at the Student Union building.

There's Always New News

NO MATTER how much scrutiny we gave the week-end calendar we couldn't find any strictly social activity that we had not already mentioned—excepting a few things we aren't supposed to mention—so we won't—and excepting, also a party for that very popular soon-to-be bride, Miss Sue Gorton.

THE brand new courtesy for Miss Gorton, whose marriage to Michael Lawlor will be solemnized on April 3, is the tea on Tuesday, March 11, for which Mr. Lawlor's mother, Mrs. John Lawlor will be hostess at her home between the hours of 3 o'clock and 5 o'clock.

The bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Donald Gorton of Tecumseh, will be the only out of town guest.

BUT WE have plenty of new news in Bassinet club circles this morning—From Washington, D. C., for instance, came word of the birth of a son, Donald Richard, on Friday, Feb. 19, to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fensler. Mrs. Fensler is the former Lois Heatley, and young Donald's father is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, where he is a member of Delta Sigma Phi, and a former member of the Lincoln Star's reportorial staff.

RIGHT now we think we should tell you that after serious consideration of numerous names, Mr. and Mrs. John V. Whitten have decided upon Katherine Ann for their little sub-deb who arrived on Thursday, Feb. 25—

AND that reminds us that there has been a slight change in the name of a certain small

Miss Edie who arrived at Lincoln General Hospital a few days ago—The first idea, we understand, was Snalley—but that has been completely discarded for the name Roxanne—Miss Roxanne Edie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen B. Edie III, and her grandmother, Mrs. Allen B. Edie, will come from Pawnee City tomorrow for a glimpse of her new granddaughter.

THEN we learned that Gary Malcolm put in an appearance at St. Elizabeth hospital on Friday, Feb. 26. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Malcolm Allen and his mother is the former Barbara Emerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Emerson, and an Alpha Chi Omega at Nebraska. Gary's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Gene Allen.

THERE is news from Boulder, Colo., also, telling us of the arrival of Steven Robert Thorne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Thorne, on Friday, Feb. 19, at the Community hospital in Boulder. Mrs. Thorne is the former Helen Emily Sill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sill of Lincoln. The baby's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Thorne of Laramie, Wyo. Young Steven, by the way, has two sisters—Susan, three years old, and Barbara, two.

Faculty Club Plans Series

The University of Nebraska Faculty Wives Club will hold a series of neighborhood teas and coffees during the month of March to enable the club members to become better acquainted with members in their immediate community.

Opening the series will be a 10 o'clock morning coffee on Thursday, March 4, for which Mrs. Orrin Stepanek will be hostess at her home, 630 South 37. Assisting hostesses will be Mrs. Floyd Hoover and Mrs. J. E. Burt.

Dates for the rest of the series will be announced later.

Extension Council Meets

Mrs. Art Fagan, chairman of the Lancaster County Council of Home Extension Clubs, presided at the meeting of the council Thursday afternoon at the county extension office. Attending the meeting were the presidents of the 56 extension clubs in Lancaster County, the council chairman and officers.

A report on the participation of the county extension clubs in the recent polio fund campaign was given by Mrs. Emil Benes of Raymond, who serves as health chairman for the council. Mrs. Benes announced that the various clubs in the county, by means of benefits, bake sales and rummage sales, had raised $4,520.60 during the campaign.

The group discussed plans for observing National Home Demonstration Week, May 3 to May 8, after which Miss All-freda Garces, a home economics supervisor in the Philippine Islands, spoke about her work.

Preceding the council meeting, the executive committee met and made the following appointments of committee chairmen and co-chairmen: citizenship, Mrs. Ray Russell, Lincoln; Mrs. Reuben Johnson, Waverly; Achievement Day, Mrs. La Vern Rockenbach, Route 1, Mrs. Russell King, Bennet; health and safety, Mrs. Harry Cropsey, Route 1; National Home Demonstration, Mrs. Wayne Maroff, Waverly; nominating, Mrs. Art Fagan, Lincoln; Mrs. Ed Loos, Martell; publicity, Mrs. Henry Ideem, Raymond; Mrs. Ray Craig, Lincoln.

Honored At Ball

Miss Jean Carey (at right) was revealed as the 1954 Sweetheart of the Lincoln General Hospital student nurses Friday evening at the group's annual "sweetheart" ball held at the Hotel Cornhusker.

Miss Carey, who was chosen by popular vote of the student body, was introduced by Herbert Anderson, business manager of the hospital, and was attended by Miss Frankie Allen (at left) who won second place among the five candidates for the honor.

In charge of arrangements for the ball were members of the student council and the social committee. Special guests included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sorrell, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Liggett and Mr. and Mrs. A. Q. Schimmel.

Postponement Of 'Flexible' Ag Support Plan Asked

Watchdog Group To Check The Needs For Tax Action

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Because of "uncertainty" in the business outlook, the Senate-House Economic Committee Friday suggested postponement of President Eisenhower's "flexible" farm support program. It also set up an economic watchdog committee to see whether more tax relief is needed.

The committee headed by Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.) voiced confidence that "any serious further recession can be avoided" if business investment and consumer spending are stimulated by "timely and courageous" measures.

The 14-member body wrote the first unanimous report in its eight-year history in appraising the President's economic report to Congress a month ago. It endorsed much of the White House program, including the broadening of Social Security and unemployment compensation.

Demos Want Action
But the report declared that: 1. "Some members"—namely, all six Democrats—favor income tax relief and excise tax reductions which the administration has opposed. And the committee is creating a group to scan employment and production trends "and the need for tax action on a day-to-day basis."

The Democrats, in a statement of "supplemental views," urged an immediate boost in the income tax exemption to $800 for each dependent instead of $600. Sen.

now range from 11 to 25 per cent.

The measure would also provide, in accord with President Eisenhower's request, that present excise rates on liquor, tobacco, automobiles and gasoline be extended beyond April 1, along with corporation income tax rates. Under existing law, these rates would automatically go down April 1.

Lourie Resigns

WASHINGTON, (INS)—Donald B. Lourie resigned Friday as undersecretary of state for administration to return to private life, effective March 5.

Premier Scelba, Friend Of West, Wins Shaky Vote Of Confidence In Rome Senate

ROME (AP) — Premier Mario Scelba's program of mild social reform and friendship with the West won a vote of confidence Friday night from the Italian Senate.

It was the first parliamentary test for the hated foe of the Communists, and he came through by the slim margin of five votes. There were 235 senators present. The vote was 123 to 110, with two abstaining. The required majority was 118.

The Senate vote capped a week of stormy Senate debate in which Scelba was under violent attack from the extreme Left and Right. In addition, the Communists and fellow-traveling Socialists harassed the government with strikes and demonstrations which claimed five lives.

Scelba's next hurdle is the Chamber of Deputies, where vitriolic insults have already been hurled against him amidst scenes of wild disorder. Debate will start next week and the vote may come within 10 days.

Friday night's vote followed a last-minute appeal by Scelba to pro-Red Socialists for support. He charged them with "abdicating to the Communists" and aims of Socialism" and give him their support.

The appeal changed no votes.

It came in the form of a rebuttal to charges from both Left and Right that his government and program do not meet the demands of the voters in last June's elections.

Scelba promised to seek quick Italian ratification of the European Defense Community (EDC) and "a satisfactory solution to the Trieste problem."

On EDC, he said:
"Twice during our generation terrible wars have resulted from nationalism. To protect us and our sons from still another war we wish to destroy the germ of nationalism by the unification of Europe.

"The EDC—with all its guarantees—seems to use the best method of resolving the German problem and of eliminating the dangers of indiscriminate rearmament."

The vote of confidence was a Yes or No ballot on the following resolution:
"The Senate expresses faith that the program of the government constitutes an efficient instrument for a decided improvement in the condition of life of the Italian people and for the safeguarding of democratic liberty and the defense of peace."

Scelba is the fourth premier since elections last June left the country without a majority party.

Like his three predecessors, he is a member of the Christian Democrat (Catholic) party—the country's largest. He formed a three-party coalition cabinet in the hope of bringing at least temporary stability to politically harassed Italy.

The three parties, the Christian Democrats, the Social Democrats and the Liberals, stood solidly together in the Senate vote against the equally solid opposition of the Communists and Socialists on the left and the Monarchists and Fascists on the Right.

If they can hang together in the Chamber vote, Scelba is assured of at least a few months in the premiership. But there may be individual defection when a vote comes on controversial legislation.

Scelba, a tough, 52-year-old Sicilian incurred the Communists' hatred as minister of the interior under former Premier Alcide de Gasperi. As the country's police boss, Scelba created Italy's riot police who beat down rioting Reds during the 1948 election campaign.

He was called to the premiership on Feb. 10.

Roberts Signs; Salary Tops For Any NL Hurler

PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—Robin Roberts signed a 1954 contract with the Philadelphia Phillies Friday for what is believed to be the highest salary paid a pitcher in National League history.

Although neither Roberts nor the club would officially disclose the amount involved, it was thought to be well in excess of $40,000. The 27-year-old Roberts signed a one-year pact in the presence of Club Secretary George Fletcher and Sales Director Frank Powell. Owner Bob Carpenter was vacationing in South Carolina.

Carpenter and his star pitcher have been negotiating since mid-January when Roberts sent back the club's first offer—a cut in pay. "I'll never sign that contract," Roberts asserted at the time, adding, "I'm disappointed and surprised."

Subsequently, Roberts, who won 23 and lost 16 last season for the third place Phillies, held three meetings and several telephone conversations with his boss. Thursday, they came to an agreement. Roberts got a raise over his 1953 salary of a reported $40,000. A club spokesman said there was no attendance clause bonus in the terms. "It's all straight salary," he said.

Roberts emphasized that the negotiations were cordial and friendly at all times. "Mr. Carpenter had his ideas about what I should get and I had mine. We negotiated and came to an agreement. How much I'm getting is my business, but I'm completely satisfied."

Asked if Carpenter's chief point in earlier discussion wasn't the fact that Roberts had won five fewer games and lost nine more games in 1953 than he had the year before, Robbie said those comparative figures were talked over but that they were not a major issue.

After all, Babe Ruth hit 60 home runs one year and Ted Williams hit 406," Roberts continued, "but they weren't cut because they didn't do it again. I'm not comparing my 28 wins of 1952 with 30 homers or a .406 batting average. I think you'd have to win 30 or 31 like Lefty Grove did to make a comparison. I'm merely pointing out that the number of games won

Sterling Belts Wilber But Star Breaks Wrist

WYMORE—Sterling smashed through Wilber in the finals of this Class C district tournament of upsets Friday night, but the tall victors lost their valuable scorer and rebounder, Dick Huenn, with a broken wrist on the last play of the game.

Sterling won, 13-47, with capable Dick Rathke shooting 22 points and Huenn 15. Fredrick, Bob Hoffman led the surprising Wilber team with 16.

Darrell Windhorst led Deshler to the consolation victory over DeWitt, 59-40.

Shepard In Fold

PITTSBURGH (AP)—First Base man Preston Ward and Rookie Catcher Jack Shepard returned Friday their signed 1954 contracts to the Pittsburgh Pirates. That leaves only five pitchers still unsigned. They are pitcher Paul LaPalme, Len Wachin and Andy Hansen, and Outfielders Carlos Bernier and Cal Abrams.

Dime Hot Dogs, Hot Shooters Spark Tourney At Clatonia

By RON GIBSON

Star Sports Staff Member

CLATONIA — Hustlers, hot shooting and 10-cent hot dogs. This combination spruced up the Class D district basketball tournament here the past week, making Director Gene Elise's meet more than just an ordinary tournament.

Thursday night's semifinals provided the crowd with good, exciting games. There was more to the tourney than that, however.

Hallam High has only five boys in school, but the team easily deserves the nickname Hustlers. Coach L. W. Kallemeyn's five thrilled patrons as they gave Clatonia a good battle before bowing 54-42 in the semifinals.

The Hustlers, who had a 10-8 record going into the Clatonia game despite being so short-handed, relied on some hot shooting and tremendous rebounding by Dick Messman to stay with Clatonia for three periods.

Clatonia was slightly hotter and it seemed that every time Roger Kite, Roland Brothorst or Ed Heller would cut loose with a shot the ball would go in the hoop.

Their shooting was almost as hot as those 10-cent hot dogs sold at the concessions stand during the tournament. The dime doggie is rarer today than the weimaraner.

The hog dogs were selling for 15 cents at the start of Thursday's action. That's still cheap in the era of 25 and 30-cent red hots.

Tourney concessionaires discovered they had made too many hot dogs and cut the price to a dime to get rid of them. After that they sold like—well, what else sells like 10-cent hot dogs?

Verl Mulder and Roger TeKolste, a junior who shoots with either hand, hit some key shots to put his team back into the game and the two clubs went down to the wire with only one point separating them.

Firth had a 40-39 lead and Mulder dropped in a lay-up to boost it to 42-39 with time running out. But Plymouth's Ron Paenitz hit a jump shot to make it 42-41 just before the end of

Alma's Freeze Fails To Stop Franklin

OXFORD, Neb. (AP)—A super-stalling game by Alma held the score almost unbelievably low for three quarters of the Class C District basketball championship game here Friday night.

Franklin defeated Alma, 28-6, after leading only 8-1 at the half and 11-3 at the three-quarter mark.

Alma simply froze the ball throughout most of each period, opening up at the end to take a shot or two.

Hickman Nips Douglas, To Meet Hot Palmyra

PANAMA—Hickman fought off the small and fast Douglas team for a 68-67 triumph in the semifinals of the Class D tournament here Friday and joined powerful Palmyra in the finals Saturday.

Palmyra was too heavy for Panama, winning 83-46 behind Warren Lashley's 29 points.

Hickman trailed by one point at halftime and lost a fair lead in the final quarter after a strong third period surge. In the last two minutes Douglas broke down a six point Hickman lead and almost caught the winners.

Dale Bruning made one free throw but missed another with five seconds left and Hickman won in the finals.

Hansen Leads Kearney

KEARNEY—Jim Hansen, high scoring Kearney center, hit 23 points here Friday night to lead Kearney by Lexington 84-63 in a Southwest Conference clash.

Bill Beaver, Kearney guard, pushed Hansen for scoring honors grabbing runnerup honors with 21. Gordon Swanson's 12 points was high for the Minutemen.

Millard Wins Blair Class 'D' District

BLAIR — Tournament leader Millard ran true to form here Friday night by winning the Class D title from Craig. The final score was 54-47.

Omaha Deaf captured the consolation game from Irvington 55-50.

Geneva Downs Friend

SUTTON — Geneva stepped away from Friend in the second half to win the Class C tournament by the score of 62-51.

Rod Felix sparked the Geneva attack with 23 points while Vince Horky swished the net for 21 points to lead Friend.

'Nothing But Good' In End Of Football

OMAHA (AP)—The president of Georgetown University had one answer Friday to the question, "What happens when a major university drops intercollegiate football?"

In the case of Georgetown University, said the Very Rev. Edward B. Bunn, S.F., "Nothing but good has come of it."

Father Bunn, in Omaha to address the Georgetown Alumni Club, described himself as a man who is "much relieved" that he does not have to worry about a football team anymore.

It was during Easter week four years ago the Georgetown announced it was giving up intercollegiate football.

"Since then," he said, "we've discovered that our enrollment has not fallen apart. School spirit is high."

"Our alumni are just as interested in the old school as ever. And now when I go around to talk to alumni groups I know I'm talking to people really interested in the university, and not to just a bunch of football fans."

In the place of intercollegiate football, Georgetown University has turned to intramural football which Father Bunn said is "a very lively thing."

He said from 2,000 to 2,500 students turn out on Saturday afternoons to watch football competition between classes. "Competition is terrific," he added.

In the old football-emphasis days, he said, "a lot of players had the idea they were doing the school a favor because they played football."

"It was our experience that for every freshman football player who started school and finished, four others had to drop out because they couldn't make the grade scholastically and still play," Father Bunn said.

"Football took so much energy, so much concentration and so much time that a student didn't have anything left over for studies," he commented.

Lincoln Gals Top Tourney

Lincolinites took the lead in two divisions of the women's state bowling tournament Friday night as firing began in the month-long tourney.

Clara Walker and June Bower of Lincoln had a 936 scratch with a 126 handicap for a 1062 total and the top spot in doubles. Lincoln's Verna Morris rolled a torrid 590 to take the number one singles spot.

The team leadership in Class A went to Owl Super Market of Norfolk with a 2470. The Class B team leader is Gass Furniture of Seward.

A total of 304 teams are entered in the tourney, which continues today and Sunday, and four week ends following. Doubles entries totaled 557 and singles entries 1087.

Kansas Wins Over Aggies

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—Behind three points at halftime, Kansas cut loose in the third quarter Friday night then coasted to a 66-55 non-conference basketball victory over Oklahoma A&M, fifth-ranking team in the latest Associated Press poll.

The Aggies led 35-32 at halftime but the 17th-ranked Jayhawkers poured in 24 points to A&M's nine in the third quarter.

Then the Jayhawkers used slick ball-control tactics in the final period to sew up the victory.

The triumph was KU's 15th in 19 starts and extended the Kansas home court winning streak to a record 28 games.

Kansas Center B. H. Born, the game's leading scorer with 22 points, the opposition center, Bob Mattick, scored 21 and Kansas Forward Harold Patterson counted 20.

Doane Fouls Hurt As Kearney Wins

KEARNEY—Losing its starting five players in the last quarter by fouls cost Doane College heavily here Friday night as Kearney came from behind to drop the Tigers 83-76 in a Nebraska College Conference clash.

Bud Exstrom, sharp-shooting Kearney ace, pushed the winners ahead 69-68 with a lay-in with seven minutes remaining in the game and the Antelopes kept command until the final gun.

Exstrom was the offensive leader for the Kearney State team with 22 points while Shul netted 17 for Doane.

Sen. Beall Suspects Speculators Have Cornered Coffee Market

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Beall (R-Md.) said Friday his special Senate committee intends to find out whether speculators have "cornered" the American coffee market and driven up prices.

Information already obtained by his group indicates "there is an ample supply of coffee in and for this country," Beall said. "I can't understand how they can justify this additional increase of 5 to 10 cents (in the retail cost of coffee per pound)," he added. "We hope to find out more about that through testimony by roasters, processors and larger buyers for chain and independent retailers."

There have been widespread public protests against the high price of coffee in the last few weeks. In many stores and restaurants coffee is selling for as high as $1.09 a pound and 15 cents a cup.

Coffee men have said the big factor in the price rise is a shortage of coffee plus increased demand. Support for the shortage idea came Friday from four American clubwomen who went to Brazil to investigate at the request of the Brazilian government.

Arriving in Miami, they said they saw millions of coffee trees dead of frost, and that there had been drought and insect damage besides. They predicted the shortage would last another two or three years.

Beall's inquiry group is a section of the Senate Banking Committee. He told newsmen "reports of a corner" in the coffee market were discussed by the full committee Friday when it met privately to hear his oral report.

Beall also said that at least two members of the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange have refused to turn over their records of trading in coffee futures unless they are formally subpoenaed.

He said his five-man coffee subcommittee would meet behind closed doors Monday to decide whether subpoenas should not be issued for the records of all members of the New York Exchange.

Eighteen or nineteen coffee brokers have supplied lists of traders and trading voluntarily, but Beall said these would not be examined for the time being and that "to be fair, we will issue subpoenas for all if we must for one or two."

Gustavo Lobo Jr., president of the New York Exchange, told the investigators recently he would recommend that all members volunteer their records for examination. But he denied that the coffee market had been cornered or that trading was responsible for rising prices.

'Motor Manners' Listed By Council

OMAHA (AP) — The Omaha Safety Council, in an effort to save lives through traffic safety in March, released this "Code of the Road" known as "Motor Manners."

Share the road by driving in the proper lane.

Allow ample clearance when passing.

Yield the right-of-way to other drivers, and pedestrians.

Give proper signals for turns and stops.

Dim headlights when meeting or following vehicles.

Respect traffic laws, signs, signals and road markings.

Adjust driving to road, traffic and weather conditions.

Spring Operations Begin At Crete's Egg-Break Plant

Lincoln Star Special

CRETE, Neb. — The Fairmont Foods Co. plant, one of the oldest egg breaking plants in the Midwest, has resumed its spring operations by starting to fill a major contract for one and one-half million pounds of eggs.

G. E. Darrington, plant manager, said the new contract, made with Kraft Foods Co., is to be fulfilled within the next four months. The eggs will be broken, frozen and shipped from Crete to the contractor's plants.

'Blue Sky' Law Charge Brings Innocent Plea

A former Lincoln man, O. M. Campbell, 57, of Omaha, pleaded not guilty in Lancaster County Court to three state complaints charging violations of the Nebraska blue sky laws.

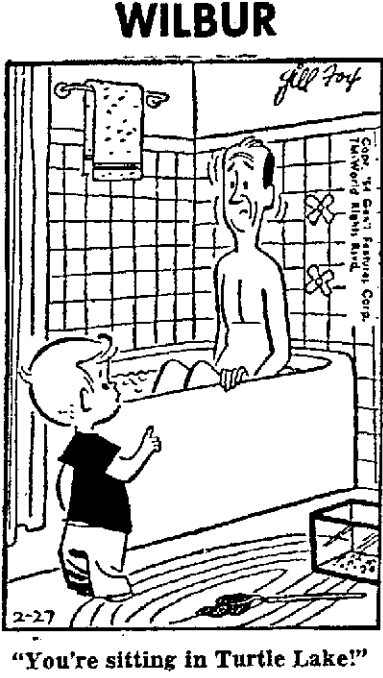

Each complaint, involving a separate transaction allegedly on March 8, 1951, contained two counts charging the defendant with sale of securities not authorized by the State Department of Banking and without having secured a permit to do business as a broker of securities.

Securities involved, according to the complaint, were certificates of ownership of an undivided interest in the Omaneb Oil Exploration Trust, an enterprise to develop and operate an oil and gas lease on land in Oklahoma.

The sales were allegedly made to Marshall G. Stahnke of 4900 South, Earl B. Anderson, of 1034 O, and his son, E. Burnham Anderson, of 1641 Sunburst Lane.

Dep. Co. Atty. Elmer Scheele, who filed the complaints at the request of the State Banking Department, told Judge Ronin the alleged consideration in the transactions totalled $2,000.

Judge Ronin required an appearance bond of $1,000 on each of the complaints and set preliminary hearing for March 20. Campbell furnished bond.

Farm Bureau Unit Holds Meeting On Policy Execution

Members of the state and Lancaster County Farm Bureau were among the approximately 175 persons who attended the district Farm Bureau policy execution meeting in Lincoln.

Charles Marshall, president of the Nebraska Farm Bureau, told them that policy execution is the putting into action of policies determined by county and community organizations last fall through the policy determination or resolutions process of the Nebraska and American Farm Bureaus.

This was one of nine district meetings being held in the state during February and March to discuss means to bring public attention to the organizations policies.

Discussions emphasized federal budget and tax programs, farm price support programs, importance of foreign trade to farmers, and state tax problems.

Those attending from Lancaster County included President Art Fagan, Carl Retzlaff, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Retzlaff, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Francke, Henry Thaden and Lavern Rockenbach.

Kenneth Snyder, state organization director, and Norris Anderson, research and legislative director, were also on hand.
